

The Heritage Alliance

Making a Difference

The Heritage Alliance's Inclusion study day, focusing on the heritage offer in education and learning, skills development and volunteering.

Tuesday 7 September 2010
The Tower of London Education Centre
11.00am – 15.30pm

Time
10.30	Arrival Registration and refreshments
11.00	Welcome and thoughts for the day Chairman of The Heritage Alliance, Loyd Grossman.
11.10	The heritage offer: the potential impact of new Government objectives Co-Chairs David Souden, Head of Access and Learning at Historic Royal Palaces and Don Henson, Head of Education at The Council for British Archaeology.
11.25	Inside the classroom: the impact of curriculum changes on historic environment learning opportunities Don Henson, Head of Education, The Council for British Archaeology
11.40	Outside the classroom: promoting the built environment as a learning resource Anne Diack, Head of Education, CABE and Project Director of Engaging Places.
12.00	LUNCH
12.45	Lifelong learning 12.45 – 13.00 James Friel, Black Environment Network. 13.00 – 13.20 Lee McCulley, Education Officer, Historic Royal Palaces and Sutherland Forsyth, Outreach Officer, Historic Royal Palaces. 13.20 – 13.35 Jon Kenny, York Archaeological Trust.
13.35	The voluntary offer 13.35 – 13.50 Caroline Moody, Volunteering Adviser, The National Trust. 13.50 – 14.10 Simon Colderley, Volunteer Co-ordinator, Waterways Action Squad and a young Waterways Action Squad volunteer; The Waterways Trust.

14.10	TEA AND COFFEE
14.30	Skills development 14.30 – 14.45 Conference on Training in Architectural Conservation (COTAC) name of speaker tbc. 14.45 – 15.00 Prakash Daswani, Cultural Co-operation, tbc.
15.00	Plenary and next steps Co-chairs David Souden and Don Henson.